How to Publish a Google Doc or Sheet for web viewing, like on this wiki

Google Doc

- Open the Google Doc
- Choose File → Share → Publish to Web
- A pop-over form will be displayed
- Under Published content & settings near the bottom, make sure Automatically republish when changes are made is selected, which it is by default.
- If the Google Doc is already published, There will be a "Stop publishing" link just below Published content & settings and a Link will be displayed
- Click the Publish button
- A pop-up will ask Are you sure you want to publish this Selection? Click on OK.
- The pop-over form will briefly (hopefully) display a message saying it's working.
- When it's done working, select and copy the Link that is displayed.
- Paste the link into the wiki where you want it.
- If you click on Embed next to Link, it will display HTML code to display the published doc in an iframe.
